CARLISLE'S PRIVATE SECRETARY.

His Health at Once Improved by Paine's Celery Compound.

Paine's Celery Compound makes people well!

From the wilds of Maine to the lands of golden sunsets, from Canada to the Florida reefs, rich and poor, men and women in high places, and those who serve their country equally as well by being simply good husbands and good wives—all manner of people are being benefited by Paine's Celery Compound.

Many in high positions, knowing that their example is likely to be followed, and wishing that their experience may help others, have given their testimonials to the value of this greatest remedy.

Mr. H. W. Van Senden, the Private Secretary of Hon. John G. Carlisle, Secretary of the Treasury, says:

"I have used several bottles of Paine's Celery Compound, and its beneficial effects were manifested in a very much improved condition of the system. Those who are overworked will find it a splendid tonic and nerve invigorator."

Mr. James A. Bryan, the city editor of The Paducah (Ky.) Standard, one of the most influential newspapers in that part of the country, writing about a month previous, said:

"I have used several bottles of Paine's Celery Compound for nervousness and general debility, and the benefits have been marked. I consider it an invaluable remedy for nervousness and exhaustion, the result of confinement, sedentary habits, and long sustained mental and physical exertion. I take pleasure in recommending it to anybody who may be thus afflicted. This statement is made without solicitation and with no other object than to add my testimony to that of others as to the efficacy of what I believe is a meritorious renovator of the human system."

And N. J. Didday, one of the publishers of the same paper, says: "I was troubled with nervous attacks, coupled with sleeplessness, and tried Paine's Celery Compound. Two or three bottles convinced me that it is not without merit. I am well pleased with it, and consider it a valuable remedy for nervousness caused by overwork and sedentary habits. I am never without it."

Thousands of testimonials come unasked for to the proprietors of this remedy, the discovery of which by Dartmouth's greatest Professor, Edward E. Phelps, M. D., LL.D., is one of the ablest achievements of recent times.

Paine's Celery Compound furnishes ready, sufficient, appropriate food for nervous tissues all over the body. Its ingredients represent the most fruitful

Among the incidents of childhood that stand out in bold relief, as our memory reverts to the days when we were young, none are more prominent than severe sickness. The young mother vividly remembers that it was Chamberlain's Cough Remedy cured her of croup, and in turn administers it to her own offspring and always with the best results. For sale by Theo. C. A Good Thing to Keep at Hand.

Troy (Kansas) Chief.

Some years ago we were very much subject to severe spells of cholera morbus; and now when we feel any of the symptoms that usually precede that ailment, such as sickness at the stomach, diarrhoea, etc., we become scared. We have found Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy the very thing to straighten one out in such cases, and always keep it about. We are not writing this for a pay testimonial, but to let our readers know what is a good thing to keep handy in the house. For sale by Theo. C. Power, Druggist.

Amusements.

In her line of effort Kate Putnam is one of the cleverest and most interesting women of the stage. There is intense individuality in her work. Her methods are distinctly original. Few actresses can so consummately portray the peculiarities of wayward girlhood. She is also an emotional actress of force and purpose, when the experiences of her role demand such work. Beneath the seemingly wanton surface of her stimulation there are profound and placid depths, to be stirred only upon rare occasions, and by the confident touch of authentic art.

In her new play, "Love Finds a Way," that she will produce at Washington Opera house next Tuesday evening, she has the most fitting part and is sure to please her audience.

MAYSVILLE WEATHER.

September's sun is bright and hot; September's shade and wind are not. September's days may pleasant be, September's nights are wintery. And proper clothing, I should say, is fully seven suits per day.
